

He's Got Style: Ebong Eka

By Mary Clare Fleury

10 men who like fine clothing and know what looks good on them talk about where they shop, labels they love, fashion tips, and what they splurge on—including one man's 3,000 ties.

photograph by Ron Aira.

Ebong Eka, 32
Certified public accountant

How would you describe your style?

Elegant. I tend to be fashion-forward without being outlandish.

Who are your favorite designers?

Dolce & Gabbana and Ermenegildo Zegna.

What are some favorite places to shop in Washington?

Annie Creamcheese in Georgetown and Barneys. Express has a lot of cool belt buckles.

What is the best bargain you've ever found?

A vintage light-brown car coat at Annie Creamcheese for $50 last year.

Favorite thing in your closet?

My suits, which I have tailored in Thailand. I'm six-foot-five, so it helps to have them custom-made. I also love my collection of monogrammed, French-cuff dress shirts.

